CURRENT U.S. PRETRIAL SERVICES OFFICERS AND PROBATION OFFICERS ARE WELCOME TO APPLY FOR TRANSFER

Position Overview:

The Pretrial Services Officer is an investigation and supervision specialist responsible for providing information to the Court on matters concerning pretrial release and detention, release conditions, supervision, pretrial diversion, and public safety pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3153 and 3154.

Organizational Relationship:

A Pretrial Services Officer reports to a Supervisory United States Pretrial Services Officer.

Representative Duties:

- Gathers and verifies background information concerning persons charged with a federal criminal offense when they are arrested or summoned to the Court. Information is gathered through interviews with the defendant, arresting authorities, U.S. Attorney's Office, family and community members.

- Uses law enforcement automated criminal record systems to obtain and verify information.
- Evaluates information and prepares a report to the Judge prior to the initial hearing with an assessment of non-appearance and danger to the community. A recommendation regarding the release or detention of the defendant is included in the report.
- In formulating a recommendation, considers community ties, prior convictions, possibility of substance abuse, and the risks of non-appearance and danger to the community.
- Supervises those defendants who are released to the community to enforce the conditions of release. Makes regular telephone and personal contacts in the office, home, and community as required by the conditions of release and the supervision plan.
- Assists those with social service needs such as medical, treatment, housing and others by referring defendants to the appropriate community resources.
- Monitors compliance with release conditions and amends conditions as necessary to address identified risks.
- Notifies the Court and the U. S. Attorney of any violations. Prepares petitions and/or reports to the Court recommending modification of conditions of release or revocation.
- Attends court hearings (initial, detention, or violation) to provide additional information and make updated recommendations. Testifies when necessary to support violation reports.
- Develops a supervision plan and maintains a detailed record of case activity.

Competencies (Knowledge, Skills and Abilities):

- Confidence in Decision Making: Makes individualized recommendations based on law, judiciary policy and principles supported by research. Clearly articulates relevant reasons for recommendations that are grounded in law, policy, research and individual characteristics. Communicates pretrial release and supervision decisions in a confident, steadfast manner.
- Proactive Planning: Considers the impact of release and supervision recommendations on the community as well as the supervisee. Calibrates supervision intensity to risk and needs.
- Team Orientation: Coordinates activities with other staff of the Agency, and when appropriate, with other stakeholders. Shares information, knowledge and resources as permitted by statute, policy and confidentiality regulations.
- Workload Management: Sets priorities based on circumstances, available information and resources. Allocates time, effort and resources necessary to complete tasks within appropriate timetables. Submits timely and accurate reports. Aligns workload coverage when necessary in accordance with Agency policy. Memorializes case activity in an accurate, timely and complete manner. Effectively utilizes technology to manage workload.
- Everyday Leadership: Models the use of evidence-based practices. Understands and communicates the vision of the system and Agency. Seeks professional development through training. Shares and celebrates success. Demonstrates the ability to manage work-related stress and promotes wellness.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Completion of a Bachelor's Degree from an accredited college or university in a field of academic study, such as criminal justice, criminology, psychology, sociology, human relations, or public administration, which provides evidence of the capacity to understand and apply the legal requirements and human relations skills involved in the position, is required for all pretrial services officer positions.
 - An ability to effectively communicate orally and in writing is needed.
 - The ability to organize, oversee, and complete multiple projects simultaneously, and with limited supervision, is a desired characteristic in addition to being detail-oriented with strong organizational skills.
 - Dependability, with the ability to work beyond traditional office hours is required.
 - The incumbent must exercise sound judgment and maintain confidences.

Preferred Skills:

- Preferred skills include fluency in Spanish or other languages.
 - Enrollment or completion of an advance degree or certification.

Conditions of Employment:

- Appropriations law requires that a paid employee of the United States federal government, where the duty location is in the continental United States, be a:
 - a. United States citizen;
 - b. Person who owes allegiance to the United States (e.g., nationals of American Samoa, Swains Island, and the Northern Mariana Islands, and nationals who meet other requirements described in 8 U.S.C. § 1408);
 - c. Person admitted as a refugee or granted asylum who has filed a declaration of intention to become a lawful permanent resident and then a citizen when eligible; or
